Investing in the Czech Republic. An overview of the current tax system.

The current developments within Central and Eastern European countries are accompanied by ongoing changes in tax systems. For investors, this means numerous new developments to take into account.

TPA's CEE Country Series covers 12 Central and South Eastern European countries, and gives an overview of the business environment and the most important new developments, including:

- Different types of business organisations, and their most important features
- Key details of corporate and personal income tax and VAT in each country
- Current tax allowances, reliefs and concessions
- Core provisions of double taxation agreements

In the TPA-Country Series there are booklets on Albania, Austria, Bulgaria, Croatia, the Czech Republic, Hungary, Montenegro, Poland, Romania, Serbia, Slovakia and Slovenia. Visit our website www.tpa-group.com, for detailed information and updates, or subscribe to our electronic newsletter at service@tpa-group.com

The information in these folders is based on the present legal situation and current administrative practice, and is therefore subject to change. The information is general in nature, and of necessity abridged: the booklets are not a substitute for individual, specific advice.

Our CEE experts will be happy to answer your questions in more detail.

Corporate income tax

Subject to tax	Income incl. gifts and inheritance
Tax rate	19% Corporate income tax rate for corporations with unlimited or limited liability to tax, no minimum corporate income tax 5% for basic investment funds
Tax liability
Unlimited	Legal persons (a.s., s.r.o., v.o.s., k.s.), branches and public sector institutions with their residence or management in the Czech Republic, on their worldwide income
	Limited	Foreign legal persons neither resident nor managed in the Czech Republic, on their Czech income
Financial year	Calendar year; different financial year possible, but must be reported to the tax office in writing 3 months in advance
Accounting	In general, double-entry bookkeeping as specified in Bookkeeping Act
Loss carrybacks	Not possible
Loss carryforwards	Loss set-off possible; no limits to amounts of loss carryforwards, may be deducted immediately, in full or in part, time limit of 5 years
Shell companies	Purchased tax losses (shell companies): loss carryforwards cease to be deductible where there is a major change of ownership (25% or more of share capital) and a change of business activities.
Related parties	As defined in Czech Income Tax Act, where a person has a direct or indirect interest in at least 25% of the share capital or the voting rights of one or more legal persons, then the parties involved are all related parties; individuals or their relatives controlling or managing one or more legal persons, then the parties involved are all related parties; persons who have set up a legal relationship with the intent to reduce tax base are all related parties;
Operating expenses	Expenses incurred to procure, secure or maintain business income
Transfer prices	Arm's length basis
	Interest on financing of acquisition of share	Non-deductible; interest on loans taken up in the six months preceding the acquisition are treated as connected with the acquisition of share and are not deductible (evidence to the contrary possible)
	Debt/equity	As a general rule, interest expense on credits and loans from parties will be deductible only if the debt/equity ratio does not exceed 4:1 (6:1 for banks and insurance companies). Credits or loans from related parties also include a credit or loan granted by a third party (e.g. a bank) if its provision was contingent upon a cash deposit of an related party with the bank (so-called "back-to-back" loan, e.g. the parent company deposits money with the bank and the subsidiary receives a loan in return).

	Financing is newly regulated in accordance with EU Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive (ATAD). Thresholds for tax deductibility of net borrowing costs: ▪ CZK 80,000,000 CZK (EUR 3,134,796), or ▪ 30% of EBITDA Net borrowing costs exceeding the higher of the two thresholds are considered tax non-deductible. Financing expenses of credits and loans if the interest rate depends on the borrower's profit, are not tax deductible (in case of such dependence, higher profits mean higher interest).
Acquisition price of land	In case of sale deductible without limitation
Tax depreciation	Tax depreciation available to eligible tax payers (usually legal owners or funds; not available to lessees in the case of finance leases) The tangible asset is classified into 1 of 6 categories (depreciation over 3 – 50 years) Tax depreciation methods: straight-line or reducing balance, time-based, unit-of production method (only for certain production equipment) Depreciation is not mandatory and can be interrupted for a time. Changes in method are not permitted Depreciation for accounting purposes is the responsibility of the company, and should reflect the expected useful life of the asset Writedowns for loss of value in use and additional depreciation for extraordinary wear and tear are not possible for tax purposes. Low-value items up to CZK 40,000 (EUR 1,567) can be fully expensed in the year of acquisition.
Accelerated depreciation	For most newly acquired plant and equipment an accelerated depreciation of 10%, 15% (for equipment for water purification and treatment) or 20% (for agricultural production machines) can be claimed in the first depreciation year.
Depreciation of photovoltaic plants	Tangible fixed assets used in the production of solar electricity are depreciated using the straight-line method over 240 months beginning in the month following capitalization. This depreciation cannot be interrupted.
Provisions	Provisions for tax purposes are governed by a special provisions law. Only provisions for repairs, bank and insurance provisions, electro-waste from photovoltaic panels, and provisions for reforestation and environmental restoration are allowable as tax deductible costs. The provision for repairs is only deductible if matching funds are deposited in a bank account specially designated for the purpose of this provision. No provisions for severance payments and pensions, or other liabilities of uncertain amount.
Motor vehicle expenses	Depreciation over 5 years Allowable acquisition cost: no ceiling Deduction of input VAT on acquisition costs

not liable to property transfer tax	Share deal (acquisition of shares in a property-owning company), no tax on merging of holdings Original transfer of new family houses and apartments done within 5 years after completion of construction Transfers of property in course of mergers and demergers
Tax rate	4 %
Basis of assessment	The acquisition value less any costs of expert's opinion (the Act provides four methods for determination of the acquisition value, such as purchase price, if it is higher than the reference value)
Real estate tax (Land tax and buildings tax)
Land tax	Objects of taxation: land <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Agricultural land: 0.25% or 0.75 % of the price per m² ▪ Paved area of land CZK 1 or 5 (EUR 0.0392 or 0.1959) per m² ▪ Development land CZK 2 (EUR 0.0784) per m² ▪ Developed land CZK 0.2 (EUR 0.0078) per m² The amounts provided by statute are indicative, and are increased by different coefficients in each municipality.
Buildings tax	Objects of taxation: buildings, constructions and units (apartments and commercial premises) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Agricultural buildings and units: CZK 2 per m² (EUR 0.0784) ▪ Industrial buildings and units: CZK 10 per m² (EUR 0.3918) ▪ Office buildings and units: CZK 10 per m² (EUR 0.3918) An additional CZK 0.75 per m² (EUR 0.0294) is levied for each additional floor Increase of buildings tax by 50% at the discretion of the municipality possible where buildings used for business purposes (but not for residential purposes). Each municipality may also establish local coefficients of 2, 3, 4 or 5 for all land (except agricultural land) and buildings within its boundaries. The taxpayer's total tax liability is then multiplied by the applicable coefficient (for individual types of land and buildings). Each municipality may also exempt land and buildings within its boundaries in favored industrial zones (this applies for the companies, which received the Decision on the Covenant of Investment Incentives).

Real estate funds	Both public real estate fund and special real estate fund can be set up under the Act on Investment Companies and Investment Funds. Real estate fund must comply with specific investment limits and restrictions which depend on the fund form and fund investment strategy.
Basic investment fund, CIT rate 5%	Starting 1 January 2015 only certain funds, so called basic investment funds, are subject to a special 5 % corporate income tax rate. The basic investment funds are: 1) investment funds whose shares are being publicly traded on European regulated market (provided further conditions are met, esp. that no corporate taxpayer owns more than 10 % share in the fund and that the fund does not perform activities regulated under the Czech Trade Licensing Act), 2) mutual funds, 3) investment funds and subfunds of the stock company with variable capital investing at least 90 % of their assets into selected financial instruments, 4) comparable foreign funds domiciled in EU/EEC.
Special funds for qualified investors (Fond kvalifikovaných investorů)	Special funds for qualified investors can be established, among other forms, in the form of corporations (public limited liability companies). Such funds are subject to liberal statutory regulations – the nature of fund assets, the debt financing ratio, and risk management policies can as a general rule be freely determined in the funds' articles of incorporation, subject always to appropriate diversification of fund assets. Starting 1 January 2015 only certain funds, so called basic investment funds, are subject to a special 5 % corporate income tax rate. The funds that do not fulfil the requirements for basic investment fund are taxed by standard income tax rate of 19%. Distributions by the fund to the shareholders are subject to deduction of tax at source at the standard rate of 15 % (35% in specific cases). This may be reduced by DTA or exempt under the Czech implementation of the EU Parent Subsidiary Directive in certain cases. Minimum number of investors: 2 Maximum number of investors: not limited (natural or legal persons) Minimum investment: EUR 125,000 or corresponding amount The fund requires a depository bank and is supervised by the Czech National Bank
Collective investment funds (Fond kolektivního investování)	Collective investment funds that invest in real estate may only be open-ended funds or stock company with variable capital (SICAV). Open-ended real estate funds have no legal personality of their own. Fund assets are managed as special assets of a capital investment company (investiční společnost) in the fund's name but for the account of the investors. SICAV has its own legal personality; it invests in its own name and for its own account.

Immovable property

	Funds' shares must be redeemable on demand. Funds may acquire property directly or via property companies. Extensive investor protection regulations apply (nature of fund assets, risk diversification, debt financing, liquidity). Funds require a depository bank and are supervised by the Czech National Bank. Starting 1 January 2015 only certain funds, so called basic investment funds, are subject to a special 5% corporate income tax rate. The funds that do not fulfil the requirements for basic investment fund are taxed by standard income tax rate of 19%. Distributions are classified as dividends and are generally subject to a withholding tax of 15% (resp. 35%). This may be reduced by DTA.
Foreign investment funds	For investment funds established in another state a special corporate income tax rate of 5% in case of so called basic investment funds can be applied. The funds that do not fulfil the requirements for basic investment fund are taxed by standard income tax rate of 19%.

Input VAT refund for taxable persons not domiciled in the EU	If no sales are made in the Czech Republic, a taxable person registered in a third country can apply for input VAT refund concerning goods and services purchased in the Czech Republic. Input VAT is refunded based on a principle of reciprocity. Refund must be applied by 30 June of the following year. The period for which an input VAT refund can be applied is a maximum of 1 year and a minimum of 3 consecutive months (shorter period possible, if it relates to the rest of the calendar year). The minimum input VAT refund is CZK 7,000 (EUR 274) if the refund period is less than a calendar year but more than 3 months, and CZK 1,000 (EUR 39) if the refund period is the calendar year or period less than 3 months at the end of the year.
Liability for unpaid taxes	The recipient is liable if he knew or could have known that the tax was not paid on purpose, or that the supplier purposefully created a situation where he could not pay the tax, or that tax evasion or fraudulent obtaining of tax advantages was involved. Since 2013 the system of liability is extended to other cases as well e.g. the customer pays for the supply to the bank account which is not published by the tax authority (in case of payments exceeding CZK 540,000 (EUR 21,160)) or the supplier is known to be an "unreliable VAT payer".
Special mode of tax collection	The tax can be paid by the recipient of the taxable supply on behalf of the supplier, in case the recipient has its doubts whether the supplier will pay the due VAT.

Mergers & Acquisitions

Financing
Financial assistance by the subsidiary	Financial assistance is possible in the Czech Republic provided certain requirements are satisfied.
Subordinate debt (mezzanine capital)	The use of subordinate debt is allowed.
Interest expenses for acquisition financing	Interest on debt used to purchase a share in a subsidiary (participation > 10 %, time period of possession at least 12 consecutive months) is not tax-deductible (exemption possible). Interest on debt used to asset deal is tax deductible (exemption possible).
Interest expense on subordinate debt (mezzanine capital)	Interest expense for subordinate debt is tax-deductible (conditions of debt / equity ratio have to be met).
Acquisition debt push down (the debt is transferred to the subsidiary after the acquisition)	There is no special legal regulation, interest on such credit is generally regarded as tax-deductible.
Squeeze-out options
Possibility to exclude minority shareholders	In the Czech Republic this option is available to shareholders in a company with an interest of more than 90 % in the share capital. There is also an option for majority shareholders to take over assets.
Capital gains – corporations and partnerships
Sale of shares in a joint stock corporation	The gain on the sale of shares is taxable income, except the conditions of the participation exemption are met
Sale of shares in a limited liability company	The gain on the sale of ownership interest in a limited liability company is taxable income, except the conditions of the participation exemption are met
Sale of interest in a partnership	In the Czech Republic neither the ownership interest in a general partnership nor the ownership interest of the general partner in a limited partnership can be sold. The income from the sale of ownership interest of the limited partner in a limited partnership is taxable income.
Parent-subsidiary exemption	Capital gains from the sale of a share in a subsidiary company with EU residency by a parent company are exempt. The minimum holding period is 12 consecutive months and the minimum interest in the subsidiary company is 10 %. Capital gains from the sale of a share in a subsidiary company with non-EU residency are also exempt under conditions stipulated in the Income Tax Act and DTAs.
Purchase of business
Definition	A business can be sold as a whole. The parts of the business include tangible and intangible non-current assets, current assets, liabilities, and employees as well as all the rights & obligations connected with the business.

Mergers & Acquisitions

Valuation in statutory financial statements	Option between two methods: 1. Assets and liabilities are stated at book value, the difference between book value and fair value of the business is shown among assets as special item "valuation difference". 2. Individual assets are stated at fair value based on an expertise, liabilities are stated at book value. The remaining difference to the fair value of the business is shown on the balance sheet as goodwill or negative goodwill.
Amortization of goodwill/valuation difference	Goodwill is generally amortized within 60 months for financial statement purposes and over 180 months for tax purposes. The valuation difference is amortized over 180 months both for financial statement and for tax purposes.
Mergers & demergers
Types of mergers	Merger by acquisition or merger by formation, including cross-border mergers, takeover of assets by majority shareholders. Demerger, spin-off.
Valuation	Merger: revaluation of companies being acquired (dissolved) in the merger. The revaluation has no tax effect. Where a parent company is merged with a wholly owned subsidiary, revaluation is possible but not required by law. In mergers of companies in common ownership with the same relationship, a revaluation is possible but not required. Valuation during demerger and spin-off has similar conditions.
Valuation in financial accounting	Selection of two methods: 1. Assets and liabilities are recognised at carrying values, and the difference between aggregate carrying values and market values (expert valuation) is disclosed separately as an special item "valuation difference". 2. The individual assets are recognized at market values established by expert valuation, and liabilities are taken over at carrying values. Any remaining difference in the total value of the business is recognized as goodwill or negative goodwill.
Amortization of goodwill/valuation difference	Amortization of goodwill is generally spread within 60 months for financial statement purposes. The difference on valuation is written down over a period of 180 months for financial statement purposes.
Tax treatment	Differences on valuation and goodwill resulting from mergers are not tax deductible.

Contributions (transfer of assets into the equity of a company)
Contribution in kind	Contribution in kind made by a shareholder into the equity is possible if the contributed assets are considered to be utilizable for business operations. It must be made prior to the entry of the company into the Commercial register. The value of such a contribution must be assessed by an expert opinion.
Amortization of goodwill and difference on valuation	Amortization of goodwill is generally spread within 60 months for financial statement purposes. The difference on valuation is written down over a period of 180 months for financial statement purposes.
Tax treatment	Differences on valuation and goodwill resulting from the contribution in kind are not tax deductible.

Double taxation agreements (DTAs)

All bilaterally concluded double taxation agreements (DTAs) in force are listed below. The right to taxation in the event of sale of interests in property companies is subject to differing provisions. In accordance with the OECD Model Agreement, for those countries for which there is a "yes" in the real estate clause column the right to taxation of share deals lies not only with the country of residence of the vendor but also with the country in which the property is situated. Where "D" is stated instead of a treaty rate, the domestic rate applies.
